Royale Botanicals, the hemp division of Dutch Heritage Gardens, announces a sales agreement with Quick Plug, a division of Dümme Orange

COLUMBUS, Ohio – (Apr. 27, 2021) – Dümme Orange, through its Quick Plug division, has entered into a sales agreement with Dutch Heritage Gardens through its Royale Botanicals hemp division. The agreement positions both companies at the forefront of the ever-expanding hemp industry. By working together on creating exceptional genetics and developing nationwide production, this distribution network allows for premium quality hemp clones to be grown for CBD extraction.

“We are really excited to work alongside one of the most renowned companies in horticulture,” said Aaron Van Wingerden, Dutch Heritage Gardens President. “The hemp industry needs leadership and stability. We believe, together, that we can help steer the industry in the right direction. Our long-standing relationship with Dümme Orange in our flower and bedding plant business makes us optimistic that things will continue evolving in this new and exciting market.”

Dutch Heritage Gardens is one of America’s leading bedding plant growers. The company supplies over 200 retail locations in Colorado and surrounding states with flowers year-round. Royale Botanicals was founded in 2017 and has been successful in breeding several winning hemp cultivars for CBD biomass extraction. Since its inception, Royale Botanicals has produced and sold over 10 million hemp clones nationwide.

“This is an incredible development for both sides as hemp is a great plant with unlimited potential,” said Keith Cable, Dümme Orange North America President. “We look forward to a very bright future for hemp clones with widespread use in CBD extraction. Our company’s extensive relationship with Dutch Heritage Gardens makes taking this giant step forward a natural fit.”

Dümme Orange is the world’s largest breeder and propagator of cut flowers, bulbs, tropical plants, pot plants, bedding plants and perennials. This new hemp clone initiative with Dutch Heritage Gardens is Dümme’s first entry into the U.S. hemp industry.
